Current performance may be higher or lower than the quoted past performance, which cannot guarantee future results. Share price, principal value, and return will vary, and you may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. The performance information shown does not reflect the deduction of any redemption fee; if it did, the performance would be lower. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, or to request a prospectus or summary prospectus, which includes investment objectives, risks, fees, expenses, and other information that you should read and consider carefully before investing, please contact a T. Rowe Price representative at 1-855-405-6488. The T. Rowe Price fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class up to the inception date of the I Class (3/6/17) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher. The average annual total return figures include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gain distributions. Effective July 1, 2018, the "net version of the benchmark replaced the "gross" version of the benchmark. The "net" version of the benchmark assumes the reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks long-term growth of capital.

The fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets (including any borrowings for investment purposes) in stocks issued by companies in emerging markets.

The fund expects to make most of its investments in stocks of companies located in, or that have economic ties to, the emerging markets countries in Asia, Latin America, Europe, Africa, and the Middle East.

Stock selection is driven mainly by fundamental research that seeks to identify companies that appear to be undervalued by various measures and may be temporarily out of favor but have good prospects for capital appreciation or dividend growth.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

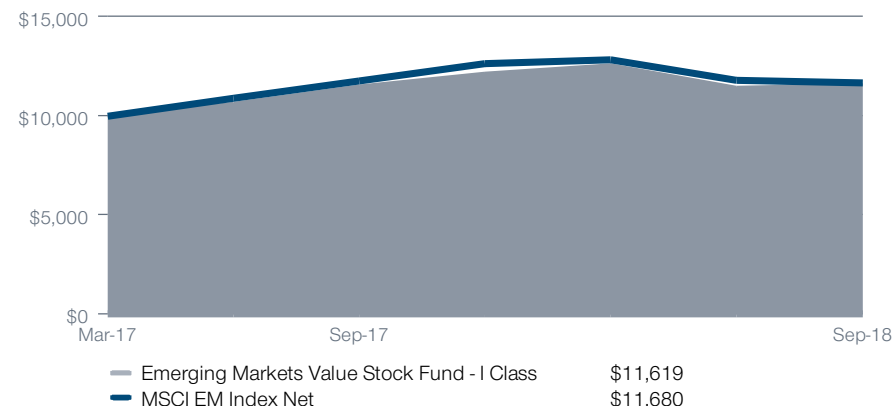

The fund offers investors the opportunity for long-term growth of capital through investments in undervalued stocks of companies in emerging markets.

Because of this concentration in rapidly developing economies, the fund involves a high degree of risk.

Share prices are subject to market risk, as well as risks associated with unfavorable currency exchange rates and political or economic uncertainty abroad.

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments.

Additional Disclosures

T. Rowe Price uses the MSCI/S&P Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) for sector and industry reporting. Each year, MSCI and S&P review the GICS structure.
