Current performance may be higher or lower than the quoted past performance, which cannot guarantee future results. Share price, principal value, and return will vary, and you may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. The performance information shown does not reflect the deduction of any redemption fee; if it did, the performance would be lower. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, or to request a prospectus or summary prospectus, which includes investment objectives, risks, fees, expenses, and other information that you should read and consider carefully before investing, please contact a T. Rowe Price representative at 1-855-405-6488. The T. Rowe Price fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class up to the inception date of the I Class (8/28/15) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher. The average annual total return figures include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gain distributions.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of large-capitalization U.S. stocks.

Invests substantially all of its assets in all of the stocks in the S&P 500 Index.

Attempts to maintain holdings of each stock in proportion to its weight in the index.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Offers a convenient and relatively low-cost way to approximate the performance of a particular market.

Expenses are lower than the average actively managed fund, and lower expenses can increase total return.

Lower turnover should mean smaller capital gain distributions, which can raise after-tax returns.

Stocks can decline for many reasons, including adverse political or economic developments here or abroad, changes in investor psychology, or heavy institutional selling.

Actively managed funds may outperform this fund.
