INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to match the performance of the entire U.S. stock market.

Uses a sampling strategy, investing substantially all of its assets in a broad spectrum of small-, mid-, and large-cap stocks representative of the S&P Total Market Index.

Does not attempt to fully replicate the index by owning each of the stocks in it.

The index includes approximately 4,500 stocks.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Offers a convenient and relatively low-cost way to approximate the performance of a particular market.

Expenses are lower than the average actively managed fund, and lower expenses can increase total return.

Lower turnover should mean smaller capital gain distributions, which can raise after-tax returns.

Stocks can decline for many reasons, including adverse political or economic developments here or abroad, changes in investor psychology, or heavy institutional selling.

Actively managed funds may outperform this fund.
